

Day 7 – Literacy story build up

Today we are writing the build-up to our story. This is where you will need to set the scene for the problem/dilemma – it is a really good time to start building suspense and tension!

Look at Mrs Hale’s planning idea below for inspiration.

Who is your hero and what do they want?

Your hero must have a problem to overcome.
e.g. He has always felt ignored but must now take charge.

Who is your hero? e.g. a child who works on a farm; a young prince.	What do they want? e.g. a lost treasure; a cure for a magical illness.
Tom is a young boy who is	Cole wants to defeat the King
looking for his place in the	and return the land to the people
world. He is chatty, loves telling	who live in the town.
stories, and is brave.
